

DIRECTIONS FROM CALAIS AVOIDING THE ROUTE PERIPHERIQUE

From Calais take the A26 and then the A1 towards Paris.

After Charles de Gaulle Airport take the A3 in the direction of Bordeaux-Nantes-Lyon.

After approximately 10km take the A86 towards Creteil.

The Autoroute A86 will join the A4 to Paris, you will follow this in the direction of Paris for about 3km and then you again take the A86 in the direction of Bordeaux-Nantes-Lyon.

Just as you pass Creteil the A86 goes under two tunnels.

You can then see the sign for the A6 (A10) Bordeaux-Nantes again. The sign for the A10 Lyon road can be seen on the road that runs adjacent to the right, but just keep going because it will join up.

Take the A10 to Orleans and Bordeaux.

FROM HERE THERE ARE TWO OPTIONS:

1) Via Cahors

Continue along the A10 towards Orleans and Tours. At Orleans you then have the choice of taking the A71 towards Vierzon which then joins the A20 towards Brive, Souillac and Cahors. When taking this route continue on A20 to Souillac and then the N20 to Cahors. From Cahors continue on the N20 and then take the D653 signposted Agen, and then onto the D656 which will lead you to the roundabout at Tournon d'Agenais.

2) Via Villeneuve-sur-Lot

The alternative route is from Orleans carry on through Tours and Poitiers. At Poitiers take the N10 to Angouleme. From Angouleme take the D939 to Perigueux. From Perigueux take the N21 to Bergerac and then continue on this road to Villeneuve-sur-Lot. From Villeneuve-sur-Lot take the D661 towards Tournon d'Agenais, and then follow directions on the attached sheet.

GOING BACK AROUND PARIS

On approaching Paris take the direction for Orly Airport. Drive from the A10 onto the A6. Leave the A6 when you see the sign for Lille/Metz/Nancy (N186).

Continue along this road for a short time and you will re-join the A86 again. Then A86 joins the A4 for a short time. Keep on this road still in the direction of Lille/Metz/Nancy. After about 3km turn onto the A86 again, this is now signposted to Lille. Always make sure you are heading for Lille.

Then go via the A3(E15) to the A1 following the signs for Charles de Gaulle Airport but still in direction of Lille.
